

BIO – Dana Zheng

Dana Zheng is the Source Control Program Manager for Metro Vancouver's Liquid Waste Services and leads a team dedicated to preventing and reducing liquid waste contaminants from entering our region's wastewater systems. The Source Control program takes a multi-pronged approach that includes bylaws and regulations, best practices, cost recovery fees, education, and community outreach. Previous to this role, Dana worked in Utility Policy and Planning for Water Services.