

BIO – John Lindner

John is an Air Quality Planner at Metro Vancouver, where he has worked for 5 years. His current major role is leading the development of Metro Vancouver's next air quality and greenhouse gas management plan, the Clean Air Plan. He also works on policy design, regulatory development, data analysis and public engagement. Before Metro Vancouver, John spent 10 years working in environmental and geophysical consulting. He completed a Masters in astrophysics in 2006.